"How did you get banged up, McGrath?" "Speeding."

"What happened?"

"Couldn't decide which side of a pole to go on."

"Walter, why don't you answer the question?"
"I did, I shook my head."

"Quite true, I heard it rattle but I don't know whether you shook it up and down or sideways." "Paul, why were you speeding along Queen Anne Road yesterday?"

"The brakes weren't working, so I wanted to get home before I had an accident."

"I think that all amunitions should be done away with." "Well, you wouldn't go without your compact, would you?" "But there is a different kind of powder in her compact."

"What do you mean by parking here?" "But, officer, the sign says 'Fine for Parking'."

"I want to see some window blinds. What colors have you?" "Window blinds are all shades."
