The Staff agreed to give recognition in the Teaneck Hi-Way to one outstanding organization in the Junior High School. The vote was unanimously cast in favor of the Footlight Club, because of the very large part it plays in the life of the high school as a whole. It has contributed more than any organization or group to the enjoyment of assembly programs and evening entertainments.

The Footlight Club was originally organized in Washington Irving School in Teaneck. When the high school was built, the club was reorganized here.

The club's motto is, "To hold the mirror to life." This motto the club has tried to carry out by giving enjoyable, educating and interesting plays. The members have tried to make themselves worthy of Teaneck High School. An honor pin, designed by one of the club members, consisting of the masks of tragedy and comedy and bordered by footlights, is given to pupils of outstanding merit.

In assembly, "Deigo's Dream," a story of Columbus' son, and "Neighbors," a play of New England life were presented. At Christmas "Why the Chimes Rang" was produced. In April the big production of the year, "Penrod," a story of "an eighty pound freckled wildcat," delighted the audience.
