

Statistics

|               | PLACE OF BIRTH          | AMBITION                        | CHARACTERISTICS              |
|---------------|-------------------------|---------------------------------|------------------------------|
| Kuhm, J.      | West New York, N. J.    | hopes to go to college          | smiling and earnest          |
| Larsson, G.   | Bronx, N. Y.            | wants to travel                 | hard working, sincere        |
| Lee, C.       | Brooklyn, N. Y.         | to win the Nobel peace prize    | placid, intelligent          |
| Leech, R.     | Bronx, N. Y.            | to be an engineer               | a great putterer             |
| Letsche, C.   | Jersey City, N. J.      | to go to college                | easy-going, sincere          |
| Levenelm, A.  | Jersey City, N. J.      | to be an architect              | modest, retired              |
| Libby, R.     | Hackensack, N. J.       | to become a doctor              | fun-loving, attractive       |
| Linn, B.      | Brooklyn, N. Y.         | to enter the dramatic field     | cooperative and lively       |
| Locatelli, H. | New York, N. Y.         | to be able to drive             | dependable and a brain-trust |
| Loh, R.       | West New York, N. J.    | to retire at twenty-one         | likable and easy going       |
| Lombardi, A.  | Englewood, N. J.        | a physical education teacher    | athletic, friendly           |
| Longtin, K.   | Ellenburg, N. Y.        | wants to be a teacher           | happy-go-lucky               |
| Lorenzen, E.  | Brooklyn, N. Y.         | photographer or aviator         | pleasant and unobtrusive     |
| Losche, B.    | Bogota, N. J.           | to be a marine architect        | fun-loving, mind of his own  |
| Lowensten, A. | Jersey City, N. J.      | to learn how to dance           | sincere, elfish              |
| Lutz, A.      | Chicago, Ill.           | make enough to buy out the boss | humorous and amiable         |
| Manzo, V.     | Jersey City, N. J.      | a linotype operator             | athletic and fiery           |
| Mara, R.      | Brooklyn, N. Y.         | to get through college          | carefree and complacent      |
| Marchesi, D.  | Union City, N. J.       | a home economics teacher        | perservering and diligent    |
| Marchisio, R. | North Bergen, N. J.     | aviator in Navy flying corps    | earnest, good natured        |
| Markey, R.    | Union City, N. J.       | to marry into money             | sincere and quiet            |
| Martens, P.   | Union City, N. J.       | to be a forester                | serious                      |
| Masetti, M.   | New York, N. Y.         | to be a secretary               | subdued and obliging         |
| Massey, R.    | Philadelphia, Pa.       | to be a pilot                   | good citizen, helpful        |
| Mathieson, D. | New York, N. Y.         | to be a conservationist         | nature lover                 |
| Mau, E.       | Bronx, N. Y.            | ride a victoria in Central Park | effervescent, pretty         |
| Maxwell, M.   | Colorado Springs, Colo. | can I find my prince charming?  | happy-go-lucky               |
| McCaffrey, F. | Union City, N. J.       | a good trumpet player           | serious, hard worker         |
| McClellan, R. | Woodcliff, N. J.        | a social worker                 | sincere and self dependent   |
| McKelvey, A.  | Trenton, N. J.          | wants to get rich               | slow, likable, witty         |
| McMullen, K.  | Lemont Furnace, Pa.     | always wants to be happy        | sports loving and vivacious  |
| Meloy, A.     | Cattaraugus, N. Y.      | to be a missionary              | earnest worker               |
| Metcalf, M.   | Wood Haven, N. Y.       | to be an author                 | quiet and poised             |
| Metzler, L.   | Union City, N. J.       | a successful business man       | small and shy                |
| Miller, D.    | Englewood, N. J.        | to manage the Chicago Cubs      | conscientious, studious      |
| Miller, D.    | New York, N. Y.         | to be a surgical nurse          | carefree and clever "Smily"  |
| Miller, L.    | Teaneck, N. J.          | go into the fashion field       | active and likable           |
| Mitros, E.    | Teaneck, N. J.          | to fly for the Navy             | smiling, friendly            |
| Molinier, J.  | Tulle, France           | a second Frances Langford       | shy and quiet                |
| Molloy, C.    | New York, N. Y.         | a commercial photographer       | life of the party            |
| Morris, P.    | New York, N. Y.         | to own a ranch out West         | slow-moving, amiable         |
| Morrison, E.  | Union City, N. J.       | to be a secretary               | artistic, quiet              |
| Mulqueen, K.  | Teaneck, N. J.          | to earn a hundred a week        | amiable and helpful          |
| Murphy, M.    | New York, N. Y.         | to join the business world      | sweet and cheerful           |
| Murphy, P.    | Spring Lake, N. J.      | to become a journalist          | sedate and complacent        |
| Murray, V.    | New York, N. Y.         | to become an engineer           | pleasant and helpful         |
| Narducci, R.  | Union City, N. J.       | the millionaires lawyer         | argumentative and assured    |
| Nelson, E.    | New York, N. Y.         | to be an accountant             | sports-loving                |
| Nelson, R.    | Edgewater, N. J.        | to be an aviator                | diligent and reserved        |
| Newman, J.    | Corning, N. Y.          | to be a music teacher           | serious, industrious         |
| Oakes, D.     | New York, N. Y.         | to be a lawyer                  | clean cut, good mixer        |