

Wrestling

Championship Awards

Robert Moore taking Perley Webster down with a one-half arm drag.

Perley Webster with a spread eagle on Robert Busichio.

WHATEVER words of advice Coach Campbell gave Teaneck's finalists on the evening of March 2 were worthy of a Polonius or a Mentor. For all three, Captain Ray Loh, Bob Moore, and Unkie Campbell bore themselves so well that they emerged with state crowns.

The pre-tournament skirmishes were not, on the whole, up to the normal Teaneck standard. But in the tournament wars that stouthearted trio, aided considerably by the durable duet that gained second place honors, Richard Narducci and Tommy McLaughlin, assured Teaneck of its fourth consecutive state championship.

The wrestler takes his work seriously, considerably more than does the basketball player. Much time and energy are consumed in daily workouts with the ultimate objective to become state title holders in his class. Should this be realized, the crowned champion has a just and legal right to give vent and display joyous emotions.

WRESTLING

Opponent

Nyack
Thomas Jefferson
Brooklyn Poly J. V.'s
Princeton Frosh
Mephram
Roselle Park
Union
Oceanside
Rutgers Frosh

Ray Loh with a two-on-one on Billy Roauer, going after a hammer lock.

Review

King Longtin with a half-nelson and far-arm on Dick Eck.

Ray Loh with a figure four on the head of Claude Flagg.

Ray Loh's great glee on triumphing by a fall fulfilled to the letter the reaction described above.

Unkie Campbell's superior muscular strength dominated as he won, rather handily, by a pin. Bob Moone, on the other hand, chose a method fraught with suspense. He rallied strongly in the overtime periods to gain the referee's decision.

Throughout the season, Narducci, Moone, and Loh paced the team to early leads in the light weight classes, but the leads were often made negligible by a deficiency in the heavier brackets.

Moone was the only Highwayman to go undefeated in dual meets. Captain Loh and Narducci lost only once, however.

We thank Coach Campbell with respect and admiration for his expert coaching talent. To list the boys Mr. Campbell has developed into top-flight wrestlers would be quite a task. With careful attention to minute detail, he directs, instructs, and demonstrates every hold and defensive maneuver in the wrestler's repertoire. The inevitable outcome of the concentration of efficiency and purpose has produced the remarkable record of four successive state championships.

Tommy McLaughlin with an opposite ankle on Claude Flagg.

RESULTS

Teaneck

19	18
5	41
0	31
17	9
29	11
26	16
21	14
17	14
10	24

Jonathan Campbell with a figure four going after a fall on King Longtin.