Two May Claim
 Missing Husband

(The Associated Press)
 Miami, Fla., Jan. 13.—A Columbus, Ohio, woman's description of her missing husband, received recently by Miami police, has brought complications.

A woman living in Toledo, Ohio, who read the details in a newspaper story, wrote the police that the description "sounded" like her missing mate "but I don't think he steals."

The Columbus wife had described her husband as a man "who would drink anything, had a nasty temper, was a liar and a thief and wouldn't do right by anything or anybody."

The Toledo woman declared she would "like to know who the Columbus woman is." She indicated that her inquiry was not a stab in the back when she wrote that her husband had received a Christmas card from a former sweetheart in Columbus.
