

The Club Board

Red Cross

Holding its annual assembly on Wednesday, November 8, the Red Cross collected $75 in contributions from the student body. The guest speaker at this assembly was Red Cross Field Director David Micklin, who urged the students to do all they could to help make the servicemen here and in foreign lands enjoy their Christmas.

With this money the Red Cross is packing and shipping Christmas boxes to members of the Armed Forces.

Rifle Club

In the annual election held by the Rifle Club last Wednesday the following officers were elected: President, David Heubner; vice-president, Norman Reeves; secretary and treasurer, Jean Smith. The Range Officers are Dan Kelly, Robert Forseut, Bob Sohn, Bill Rupp, and Richard Mayer.

This year, the club is receiving 10,000 rounds of ammunition donated to them by the Government and is also receiving two rifles, one donated to the club by a member of the armed forces and another which the club is buying.

The members of the Rifle Team are now picked out and are "sharpening up" for participation in the Bergen County Rifle League matches.

Under way and now learning the essentials of bore target shooting, the Rifle Club members are trying for high scores which will make them eligible for the Rifle Team. The ban on cartridges has been lifted enabling the members to do more shooting in less time.

The large group has been broken up into small groups, attending five days a week. As yet, no election of officers has been held, but when held, the following officers must be filled: president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, head range officer, and a range officer for each day.

Service Club

Service Club members are still working on sending out birthday cards to the boys in service. The main effort at the time is being put on those that fall in the month of November. Others, however, are looking up and checking addresses of those boys whose birthdays are in December.

Pencils are still being sold by the members. These contain the imprinted football schedule and are five cents apiece.

Riding Club

The Senior Riding Club, sponsored by Miss Eleanor Quinn, elected officers at its last meeting. The following were chosen: President, Jack McPartland; Vice-President, Ruth Carol Stuart; Secretary, Marjorie Orel; and Treasurer, Alice Winters.

The club, which welcomes all new members who are interested in horseback riding, rides on Thursdays at the Sunnyside Riding Academy.

Opera Club

Edna Watts was elected president of the Opera Club at a recent meeting of the organization. Other officers are Perry Volkas, secretary, and Alice Harding, treasurer.

The members are now learning to sing and understand opera. They are also discussing costumes and acting.

French Club

"La Marseillaise," the French national anthem was the topic discussed at the last meeting of the French Club.

The next meeting which will be a business one, will be held on the first Monday in December. Movies will be shown at that meeting.

A Christmas party will be held some time in December. An entertainment committee will be appointed at the next meeting.

Camera Club

New officers were elected for the Camera Club at their last meeting. They are: president, Ronald Burrows; vice-president, Robert Heitman; and secretary, Doris Skinner.

It was also decided that Mr. Earlin, the sponsor, will make up assignments for them. The assignments will be drawn and then photographs of the objects in the drawing will be duplicated.

The club is now practicing to make Christmas cards with photographs of appropriate winter scenes.

Every month a contest is held between the members, and each person submits a 5x7 mounted picture.

Service Club

Happy birthday fellows. Members of the Service Club have been working diligently sending birthday cards to boys in the armed forces whose birthdays are in December.

They have been discussing a change in the monogram for the year 1945.

A profit of $25 was made when the club sold the pencils with the football schedule for 5c each.

Servicemen's lunches are still being served by the Service Club and contributions will be gratefully accepted.

Writers' Club

Plans for the revision of the Constitution were made and carried out at the last meeting of the Writers' Club.

Also a committee for planning the following program was chosen and consists of: Nancy Ernsaus, Betty Thompson and Jean King.

At this meeting Mr. Jay Church gave a talk on the essay and then an informal discussion was held. The members were to write an essay and bring it to the next meeting, where these will be discussed and criticized.

German Club

Special talks with pictures of Germany by students who have lived or visited in Germany will be an interesting addition to meetings of the German Club. Die Deutschen Kammeraden, sponsored by Miss Marion Smith Refreshments, and singing are also included in plans for an afternoon of interest and enjoyment when the club meets every second Tuesday in room 113 after school.

This year's officers are: Barbara Haupt, President; Donald Becker, Vice-President; Elizabeth Zuchlag, Treasurer; and Eleanor Penzenbagen, Secretary, who writes the minutes in German. These are read in German and in English.

Engagement Announced

The engagement of Miss Miriam Woods, Senior high Spanish teacher, to Corporal A. Howard Andersen of Wisconsin was announced this Sunday as a family tea.

Corporal Andersen has been in the service since 1940, and is now in the Field Artillery serving with the 32nd Division in the Dutch East Indies.

Miss Woods expects to finish this school year and possibly another before being married, but she also wants to teach for 25 more years.

Felli, Eads, Ewald Star in "Stage Door" Friday Night

Before a large audience of students and adults, the Playcrafters, under the direction of Miss Helen Smith, presented Stage Door, by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber, last Friday evening, November 17.

The story concerns a young actress, Terry Randall, played by Jeanne Felli. The two men in her life are Keith Burgess, a young playwright, and David King, a wealthy producer. These were played respectively by Jack Ewald and Bill Eads.

The humor of the play was provided by Judy, played by Pat Horsey, and Marie Claude, a young playgirl, in the characters of Big and Little Mary, the tragedy, Jeanneville, was supplied by Paula Felli, playing the part of Kaye, who, having failed in marriage and a career, takes her life.

Others in the cast were:

Patty Bedford, Virginia Thrall, Jeannie Marie LaBonty, Phyllis Miller, Aida Lee Olsen, Lorraine Fitzhenry, Gloria Hotner, Audrey Mulsang, Ida Mae Grote, Gerry Rapfogle, Joy Fields, Bob Feldman, Charlie Tillinghast, Fred Powell, Art Hendrickson, Don Bolles, Ed Bichler, Lee Denegar, and Bart Whitlock.

Tickets for the production were sold by the members of the Service Club and Playcrafters. Miss Miriam Wood directed the make-up committee for the play.

Teaneck Students Take Flying Courses In Civil Air Patrol

Along with trigonometry, chemistry, problems of American democracy and all the other subjects Teaneck High School offers senior students, many fellows and girls have joined the Civil Air Patrol Corps to receive even more courses.

The fellows, of course, have one eye on their future service for Uncle Sam and are receiving courses in flight familiarization, theory of motor and theory of flight. The boys received basic training for the Army Air Forces and the girls can prepare to become Air-Waves or post-war civilian pilots.

The training program given by all Bergen County squadrons has been approved by the Commanding General of the Army Air Forces, H. H. Arnold who said, "The Civil Air Patrol cadet program is the best preliminary training you can get if you hope some day to fly with the Army Air Forces. This valuable program is backed up by many men whose experience in flying covers many years."

Mr. Westervelt Romaine, Teaneck High School teacher, is also active in the corps giving instruction in the theory of motors every Tuesday night in addition to the regular scheduled classes for the Teaneck boys' squadron every Wednesday night from 7:30 to 10:30.
