THIS year the student service has worked hard to carry on the fine work done by the organization in the past. They have striven to benefit the school in every possible way.

During the school year the student service sponsored an assembly program and several plays were presented with the purpose of stimulating better conduct among the student body. The service also worked out a code of laws in cooperation with Mr. McGary that were distributed to the student body. A council was formed of the various supervisors that met weekly with the adviser and at that time the problems of the service and the supervisors were discussed, and some solution to them was worked out.

As the adviser Mr. McGarey was a never-failing source of aid to the organization and its members.
