Dames' Doin's

By Peggy Crandall

If you haven't already, take time out to notice these things: Helen Schroeder's complexion and teeth.

Gertrude Kurb's amazing eyes.

Ada Reasco's profile.

Vallah Gosh's ever-increasing wardrobe.

Betsy Brown's neatness.

Peggy Hoffman's hair.

Lil Haney's undying ambition.

Marilea Haroutunian's studiousness.

Lorraine Carr's jokes.

The post-Christmas windows in New York are really a treat to look at. They're all symbolic of spring in one way or another. After seeing Santa in every window, the spring modes can be appreciated in a big way. Most of the displays are featuring printed silk dresses. It seems you must have a printed silk or you won't be correct. So far, the imposing, and always popular, navy blue is right up in front. Redingotes are not as noticeable as the plain suit and printed blouse, or the coat and dress. By the way, the suits are very simple in the front. All the elaboration goes in the back. One very stunning suit, with a cut-away front and plain skirt, took your breath away when you looked at the back. The jacket was fitted to the waist, then two pleats, about four inches apart gave a delightful flair around the hips. The skirt had two pleats, also, and they were stitched only nine inches down from the waist-line. Of course, you know that all pleats are expressed this year, as are the pleats in the suit.

You may adore it, and then again you may hate it, however, it's the fashion to wear sprint colored stockings. It all started when Jean Harlow got tired of the shade of her hosiery and had created for her hose the color of her hair. (It's honey colored, now.) Since then, the stockings have been getting more on the red-orange everyday. The true honeycolor goes grand with black suede shoes.

Now is really the time to start thinking about what to wear to the prom. After all, the sooner you assemble your outfit, the more time you'll have to make changes, if necessary, on it. The Grecian influence has remained long enough for us to get some very exciting gowns. Most of the Grecian gowns are pleated from top to bottom, and they're usually made out of chiffon. Little Juliet caps of rhinestones or sequins are very effective with [illegible]

Innocent Bystander

Buzz . . . Buzzz . . . Buzzzz . . . Ahh! Isn't that y'ur "Uncle I.B." circling over the school? Why yes, I believe it is . . . To be sure. A "beaut" of a landing too. Be patient, dear children, he'll be here any second now . . . An' sure enuff, here he is.

"This is your 'Uncle I.B.', your Uncle I.B., Hello, little hints, hello."

"He-heh-heheheheh. Chuckle. Well dear kiddies, today Kenneth Koenig's 10 years old and y'ur Unk hopes you still drink that 'scrimptious, ta-la-paloozing GORDEN'S goat milk." (P.S. Force on "Uncle Don").

* * * * *

"First of all 'Unkie' wants to do a little complimentin' for a change. For instance, the editor of the Hi-Way certainly needs a little. Kenneth Koenig is a real sport and a hard worker. So kiddies, next time he tries to 'mooch' a piece of gum or a cigarette, give it to him. He really deserves it . . . This month Henry Benzenberg wins the gold star for drinking all of his goat milk. There's a real pal. He's doin' a real job as senior class treasurer.

"Hmmmmmmmm . . . What have we here? Tsk-tsk-tsk-tsk. Sutin' black list!

* * * * *

"What wise guy was kicked off the senior cabinet recently? He was a level-headed kid in junior high. Bright, alert, neat, mannerly and all that goes to make a swell guy. Now, my dear children, look at him now. What do you see? Ha-ha. Apply Darwin's theories of evolution backwards an' that is your answer. He certainly wins the fur-lined bath-tub for making an' A-1 chump out of himself. Where's y'ur pride, bub kool? After giving this gang of 'leaks' that he hangs around with the once-over, it isn't a wonder that he is what he is. That mob sure is no pride to the hoonan race They have more fun in the halls splittin' water at each other and makin' down books. Maybe they [illegible]

Don't Tell Me

By Susie Sue

Dear Betsy Brown,
You have the friends because you're cute
To you each boy his horn does toot
And To Hi's teachers, like you too
Because you do what you're asked to do
Zealously yours,
Susie Sue.

We wonder what Spike would do
If he were told that he
Must stop his gorgeous (?) singing
Or no game could he see.
(He'd probably leave.)

* * * * *

Dear Dick Varnum,
With you a player on the court
We should always win
'Cause when you run and shoot the ball
It usually goes in.
Love and kisses,
Susie Sue

* * * * *

Dear Bill Lewelles,
As seen upon the football field
No one could get you down
And even tests in Algebra
Refuse to make you frown.
Bravely yours,
Susie Sue

During a supposedly studious English class Helen Beagle started a book report by saying, "This man had two sons who were kings on horses."

* * * * *

We hear Bob Kenny's latest crush
Is a brilliant girl named Dot
Of course we really could be wrong
But we're quite sure we've got.

* * * * *

"The Music Goes Down and Around"
Is heard both far and near
In every hall and every class
That's all that you can hear.

Humoresque
